Court declines to stop sale of five western Kenya sugar firms

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 10 2017

Sugar cane delivery at Nzoia Sugar Company in Bungoma County. Plans to privatise five sugar companies in western Kenya could go on after the High Court termed the bid to halt the proposal as premature.

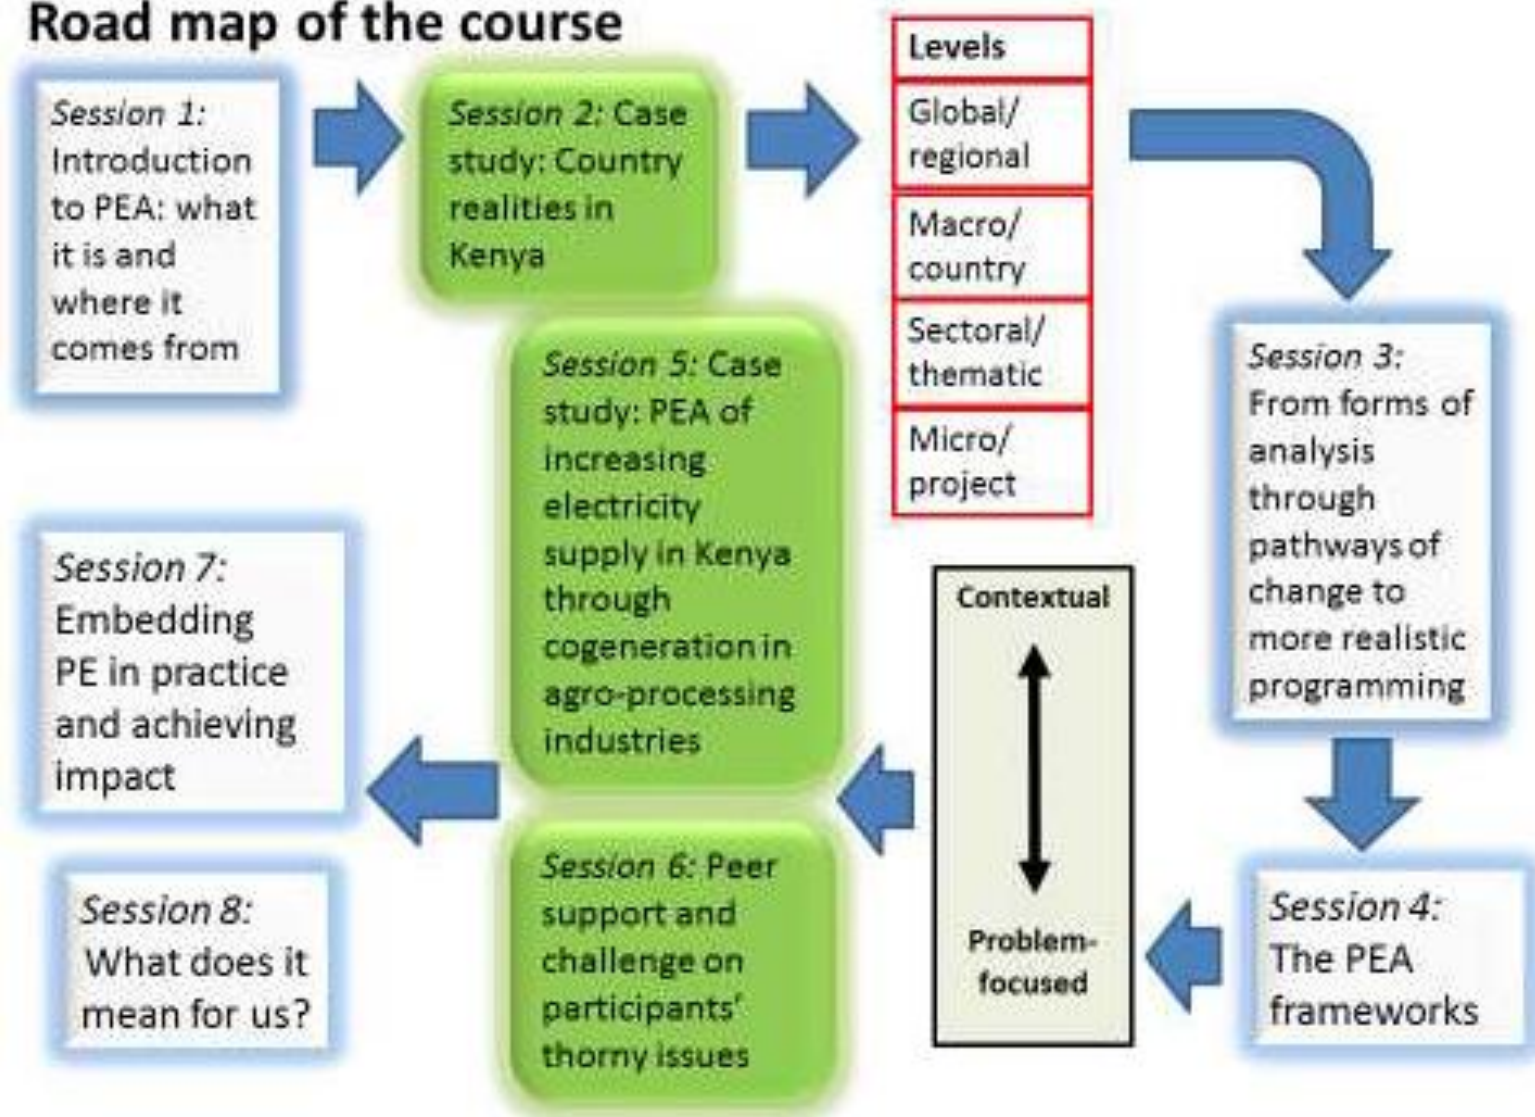

In Summary

- Nzoia, Chemelil, South Nyanza, Muhoroni and Miwani sugar companies have been targeted for privatisation.

- Former Gem MP Jakoyo Midiwo and the Council of Governors had separately moved to court in 2016 and challenged the privatisation plans.

- The governors' council on its part argued that the matter directly involves devolution of agriculture.
